Public Forum for the Rabun County Joint Comprehensive Plan

We want your input about the future of Rabun County!

The Georgia Mountains Regional Commission (GMRC) is assisting Rabun County and the municipalities of Clayton, Dillard, Mountains City, Sky Valley, Tallulah Falls, and Tiger with the update of their joint Comprehensive Plan, the State required document that helps shape and coordinate local work programs for the communities. These planning processes are designed to ensure that major projects and policies for the community are developed with public input, ensuring a level of coordination between local and State level interests.

This process will include multiple opportunities for public input, beginning with the public forums listed below. Initial meetings will walk through the basics of the document, the planning process, and how the comprehensive plan is used to help guide community policies and programs. Subsequent meetings will review the needs and goals for each community and what the local governments can do in preparation for the future.

In addition, there is also a brief online survey asking people to give their thoughts on select issues and priorities for each community. These surveys will be accessible from April 13 through May 31, and will be open to anyone with a vested interest in the area. (See other page for more information.)

We look forward to hearing your thoughts on the future of Rabun County and hope to see you at our public events. More meeting dates and times will be announced throughout the summer. For any questions about the document or the process, please contact Adam Hazell at the GMRC as listed above.

Help Plan Rabun County's Future!

North Georgia is growing! Residents and businesses are drawn to the area, be it for industry, recreation and beauty of nearby mountains and lakes, or the more rural lifestyle of the many charming small cities and towns.

Rabun County and its municipalities are preparing! Rabun County and the municipalities of Clayton, Dillard, Mountain City, Sky Valley, Tallulah Falls and Tiger are updating their Joint Comprehensive Plan - The document used to help guide development and capital projects.

They want to hear from you! As part of this process there is a brief online survey available asking people about their issues and priorities for the community. These surveys will be accessible through May 30, are open to anyone with a vested interest in the area, and all responses will be anonymous. There will also be public meetings held throughout the summer of 2024. Check each government's web site for meeting dates and locations.
